Dr. Ketha,

I saw Mrs. Hawkins today. VS: 148/66-97.6-52-56-16. O2 Sat. 98% RA. Breath sounds are clear. Pt. states that she had "a hard fall on Sunday". Pt. states that she was sitting at the breakfast bar and when she went to get up, the chair swiveled and she fell to the floor. Pt. states that she has no memory of the incident. Pt. refused to go to the ER. Pt. is alert and oriented. Pt. states that she has a headache and it is a 9/10 and back pain that is an 8/10. Pt. ambulates with a rolling walker and gait is slow but steady. Pt. and CG instructed if pt. develops a worsening headache, nausea, vomiting or change in mental status to take pt. to the ER and they both voice understanding. Pt. states that she is "having dysentery" today and has had diarrhea stools for the past couple of days. Pt. takes Dulcolax tabs. and Docusate Sodium nightly. Pt. states that she has held the medications when having diarrhea. Pt. is taking Imodium as needed. Pt. is requesting that Meloxicam be held at this time. She takes it in the AM long with Arthritis Pain Relief tablets and thinks that it may be making her "too sleepy" in the AM. Medication removed from medication organizers by SN as requested.

Thanks!

Pat Bowers, RN
